POWHATAN COUNTY ANNOUNCES

Crazy Rooster Brewing opening in Powhatan

Powhatan County, VA – Powhatan County Economic Development would like announce the soon to be open Crazy Rooster Brewing in the Oakbridge Business Development in late 2019/early 2020. The brewery is a joint venture by Jason Miller and Tim Torrez, who have taken the hobby of home brewing and are making it into a business in their home County. The brewery will be located just a few miles from Westchester Commons and Rt. 288 in Powhatan County in part of a 20,000 sq. ft. multi-tenant building. The brewery will occupy 5,000 sq. ft. space, which will have 3,000 sq. ft. of brewing space and 2,000 sq. ft. for a tasting room with game/entertainment area and an additional 750 sq. ft. of outdoor patio seating. The brewery will offer 8-12 ales and lagers on tap including seasonal, experimental and mainstays for onsite consumption as well as in to go growlers.

Miller and Torrez have known each other for twenty years since meeting through work at a Richmond area environmental engineering consulting company. Since then they have kept up personally and professionally and share a love of craft beer and Powhatan, since both have lived in the County. Rural Powhatan is a focus for the two businessmen, with intentions to keep everything as local as possible from locally sourced ingredients to offering local goods for purchase at the brewery. The brewery adds to the growing beer scene in Richmond and a recently budding alcohol scene in Powhatan, which the brewery will join Fine Creek Brewing Co. and Three Crosses Distilling.

The partners began the venture with personal investments and funds through the Small Business Administration and Village Bank. The remaining building is for lease, featuring up to 9,600 sq. ft. with a loading dock with drive-in door and 18' ceilings. The available space is being represented by Matt Hamilton and Eric Williford with CBRE.
